

FULLBODY TILES

600X
1200MM

This new fullbody collection is exclusively curated for leading architects who design landmark residential and commercial projects. Developed with a deep understanding of premium spaces, it delivers a bold yet refined visual character that enhances large format layouts and statement interiors with confidence and sophistication.

Offered in three distinctive punches and a wide spectrum of versatile shades, the collection provides creative freedom while maintaining design harmony. It empowers architects to craft cohesive, high end environments with strong identity and lasting visual impact.

THE BEGINNING

09
THICKNESS

Our 9mm fullbody tiles are made for high durability and long lasting everyday use.

FULLBODY TILES

Our new Fullbody Collection showcases exceptional craftsmanship with diverse punch options designed to suit varied architectural styles. Manufactured under strict quality standards, each tile reflects precision, consistency, and refined aesthetics. Architects admire this collection for its natural beauty, structural integrity, and lasting durability, making it a trusted choice for premium residential and commercial spaces.

DIVERSE PUNCHES

Our Fullbody collection features three distinctive punches: Stone Deck for natural texture appeal, Prisma for sharp contemporary character, and Lappato Punch for elegant semi polished surface depth.

600X 1200MM

Tiles with this dimension offer a spacious look with minimal joint lines, premium smooth finish, high durability, stain resistance, low maintenance, and are perfect for modern, elegant interiors.
